

Page one is typed. Cities should ban private cars downtown because streets become places for people.

Appendix A, my handwritten field notes from the festival weekend:

Field notes: vendors said sales roughly doubled. Maya Chen helped me count visitors.

Final page: the conclusion was photographed, not typed.